

flow

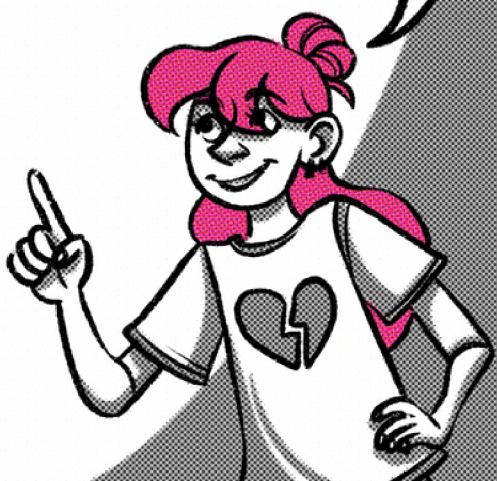

So, you've got a job interview. That's awesome! But now you've got a new problem: what the heck do you wear to a job interview??

Don't worry, we can help ya out here at FLOW LIFE SKILLZ!!

The thing you first want to take into account is where you applied to work, and the level of snazzy everyone there dresses in.

Is it a spot working in a skate shop? Then you're probably good to wear your nicest skate gear.

Like a Cool t-shirt & jeans, as long as there's no stains or rips on them!!

Or maybe you're going to bus tables at a nice restaurant in town, that'd be a higher level of snaz.

Swap your t-shirt for a button up or a nice sweater, but the sneakers can stay.

Don't feel like you need to dress super fancy if that's not something you're comfy with.

The most important thing is that you feel like YOU. Well, a polished version of you.

uncomfortable

You wanna be comfortable enough that you can feel confident, but dressed up enough that you show you've made an effort.

SHRUG

It's a fine line,
but I believe in you! If you aren't sure about your outfit, you can always check with a friend.

Now, good luck
with your interview!
You've got this!!

